

Trainee Information Systems

The trainee information system (TIS) programme is a national initiative to develop information systems for the management and administration of trainees and learners.

Developing people
for health and healthcare